May 2023 Newsletter

Well things are hotting up , not only has the improved weather (at the time of writing!) made our cruising and sailing days more attractive but also events at the Clubhouse have been keeping us entertained.

We have seen members boats out and about in the Sound , a few have made it out to the Eddystone lighthouse and Cruising in Company continues to grow with another trip down to Fowey enjoyed by many. We are really looking forward to the Coronation events and there's quite a lot planned for the month as you can see below.

Why not send in your own newsletter item if there is anything you think other members would be interested in? If you'd like to keep a closer eye on event updates then why not join the Members WhatsApp group, there is a button at the bottom of this newsletter for that.

Event Updates

At the beginning of April the RPCYC Cruising in Company crowd hit Fowey, braving a less than favourable weather forecast which made for a lively sail up and down. Keep an eye on the Calendar and WhatsApp group for planned (and unplanned) trips out.

We had a great 1st BBQ on the Beach 2023 at lovely Cawsands this month , the sun came out and we enjoyed BBQd fish tacos - read all about it here

weekend, a fantastic evening of music and merriment, we cannot wait for the next one! - read all about it here

Upcoming Events

Talk night is back! Friday May 5th and Adrian will be debating "Considerations in meal and nutrition planning for improved performance in trans-oceanic singlehanded sailing"

-> rsvp here <-

We are all looking forward to the weekend Coronation celebrations. Whether you have booked for the Saturday Afternoon Tea or not why not come on down and raise a glass to the new King!

Get your thinking caps on and settle down for another RPCYC quiz night on Friday 12th May from 7pm , this time your Quiz Master is Gary Kent. £10 entry includes a delicious Pasty!

-> Book for Quiz & Pasty Night <-

Saturday May 20th - if the weather Gods are with us there is a Cruise in Company planned for an overnight at the River Yealm.

-> RSVP here if interested <-

What makes the Club tick?

As we continue to navigate through these uncertain times, we are grateful for your continued support and dedication to the Royal grateful for your continued support and dedication to the Royal Plymouth Corinthian Yacht Club.

We are excited to announce that we have launched a new rota system to help manage our events and activities. This new system will allow us to better organize our events and ensure that everyone has a chance to get involved and contribute to the club.

We are looking for volunteers to put their names down on the new rota and help us to make our events and activities a success. Whether you have experience in event planning, hospitality, or simply want to lend a hand, we would be grateful for your support.

By volunteering on the rota, you will have the opportunity to meet new people, learn new skills, and be an integral part of the team that makes the Royal Plymouth Corinthian Yacht Club leadership community. We believe that everyone has something valuable to contribute and we would be honored to have you on board. We also now have an attractive reward scheme in place.

If you are interested in volunteering on the new rota, please get in touch with us by emailing info@rpcyc.co.uk We will be happy to provide you with more information and answer any questions you may have.

Thank you for your continued support and we look forward to working with you.

Thanks for reading and May your month be fab!
